

Pair of white opaline vases. Model of J-F Robert.
Circa 1840-1850.

An exceptional pair of cornet-shaped vases in white enamel opaline, decorated with colored flowers falling in garland composed of old roses and blueberries. This floral composition takes up the floral decors painted in vitrified colors developed by the painter Jean-François Robert. A snake that winds up around the high collar. The collar and the base are encircled with gold bands. Light wear to the gilding.

W: 6.7 in – D: 6.7in – H: 14.2in.

Probable work of the crystal factory of Sèvres or Baccarat.

Circa 1840-1850.
