

Silver And Lapis Lazuli Flask, 19th Century.

Lapis lazuli flask with silver-gilt mounting. The body of the stone flask is a tapered octagon. The openwork mounting is intricately sculpted with rinceaux motifs. The base of the flask can be used as a seal. The silver stopper is connected with a delicate chain to the neck of the flask.

Height: 2.6 in (6.5 cm)

Silver mark: Swan Master silversmith mark: R

Most likely Austrian craftsmanship from the late 19th century. REF: 5021

Price: 3000€