

Silver and enamel drinking horn by Rudolf Linke

Elegant silver and enamel drinking horn. The body of the horn is decorated with painted enamel featuring mythological characters seated in a landscape. The central figure is crowned with a laurel wreath and sun rays are emanating from behind his head. The cup is upheld by a sculpted mermaid who is set on a circular base that is embellished with intricately wrought stylized rinceaux. A handle with a woman's head and torso and a small band of multicolored enamel stretches from the rim to the neck.

Height: 6.2 in (15.7 cm)

Width: 3.9 in (10 cm)

Base: 1.6 in (4 cm)

Austrian silver mark: A

Master silversmith mark: R.L. for Rudolf Linke.

Late 19th century craftsmanship. Circa 1880-1890

A few light traces of use on the enamel.

Price: 3500€