Early 19th Century Gold Vinaigrette.

Oval-shaped gold and enamel vinaigrette. The vinaigrette is entirely decorated with a guilloché motif with stylized flower. The hinged lid is decorated in the center with a medallion with a violet in royal blue enamel on a matte background. The enamelled thought known as of the Palais-Royal is characteristic of the luxury objects sold in the shops of the Palais-Royal in Paris during the French Restoration. The vinaigrette opens on a fine pierced grid which allowed to contain a sponge soaked in flavored vinegar.
