

18th-century candy box with miniature

Circular box in composite material (pillaged fish scales, binder and pigments) and gold mounts. The removable lid is decorated with an oval medallion, a miniature on wax, depicting a couple in a landscape. The wax medallion is set in a gold frame with an interlacing frieze. A second frame of gold interlacing surrounds this charming composition. The inside of the box is fully lined with tortoiseshell. Some wear on the base.

Era: Louis XVI.

Materials: composite, gold, tortoiseshell.
