DAUM NANCY salter. CIRCA 1890.

Era: Art Nouveau.

Materials: glass, enamel.

Signed: Daum Nancy.

Pair of salters in the shape of a bucket vase. This pair is in blown crystal, slightly opalescent and painted gray landscapes representing shores with Dutch-inspired sailboats and mills.The brothers Auguste and Antonin Daum founded the French Crystal Company in 1878 in Nancy, Lorraine. Around 1890 the family business perfected itself in the decor with acid and engraving on the wheel.

Signed DAUM NANCY.
