A seamstress's chatelaine "folk art"

Era: 19th century

Materials: metal and gilded metal

Dim: H 29 cm / 11 in

A ‘Folk Art’ seamstress's chatelaine made of metal and gilded metal; the square clasp is centred on a hunting dog in a forest landscape, surrounded by a garland of small flowers and leaves. This decorative motif is repeated on the three links from which hang a bucket-shaped thimble holder, a small gourd with its lid, and a horseshoe needle holder.
